

Environmental & Community Coordinator

It's not every day you have the opportunity to be involved in the start-up of a new mine... To make your mark and be there from the beginning. Well, here is that long-awaited, unique opportunity to do just that – a Greenfield mine in the Hunter Valley with all the associated excitement of building and being part of something new.

The Maxwell Underground Project, owned by Malabar Resources Ltd has commenced construction and production of up to 8 million tonnes of coal per annum. With a long life, the underground mine targets high quality coal, with the majority being metallurgical coal.

Specific responsibilities include:

- Managing compliance with regulatory environmental requirements, Malabar Standards and site procedures.
- Overseeing mine rehabilitation programs, biodiversity offset management programs and land management activities.
- Developing and implementing key environmental management plans.
- Preparing key environmental reports for the site.
- Liaising with local land holders, community members and Government officials.
- Participating in community engagement activities and coordinating community programs.
- Promoting positive relationships with our stakeholders & community; and
- Taking all reasonable steps to minimise impact on the environment.

Requirements:

- You will have tertiary qualifications in Applied Science, Environmental Science or related discipline.
- You will have a thorough understanding of NSW environmental legislation and at least 3 years' experience within the Mining Industry.
- You will have experience with implementing mine site rehabilitation.
- You will have experience with project and contractor management.
- You will have a high regard for your personal safety and the safety of your teammates.
- You have the ability to follow a plan and the resilience to adapt to a constantly changing environment.

An attractive remuneration package will be offered to secure the preferred candidate.
